oldest in its field, produces graduates who are able to perform artificial insemination and diagnose pregnancy, as well as carry out many other her practices that will be profitable to cattle production.

Through the knowledge he will acquire, Bill will be able to select a hard sire to breed extensively to follow a line or cross-breeding program.

Bill has joined his parents in the breeding of registered Polled Herefords. He has taken the responsibility of seeing that all the calves born on the farm are weighed and graded at weaning time. If a dam does not produce a calf that gains two pounds or better by weaning time, the dam is no longer kept on the farm. Bill says "It isn't very profitable to have a dam who does not produce a calf that will pay for her keep."

pregnancy tests will aid in culling the non-producing dams out of the herd."

Miss Fuller, Mr. Brown Exchange Vows Feb. 24

Miss Deborah Jean Fuller became the bride of Gary Brown in a home ceremony February 24 at 5:00 in the evening. Terry Gunnels, minister of the Elba Church of Christ, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harvel Fuller, Elba, and the late Mr. Milton Harvey Brown, Jr. and Mrs. Mildred M. Brown, Montgomery.

Philip Morrow, organist, played the nuptial music and Miss Babs Bruce sang "Colour My World."

Miss Dixie Ann King, maid of honor, wore an empire gown of red velvet accented in white. She wore matching ribbons and daisies in her hair and carried a Colonial nosegay of red Cashion Mums with Baby Breath, filled with tiny baby ribbon and streamers.

Best man was Mr. Milton Harvey Brown, III, brother of the groom.

Perry Fuller, brother of the bride, lit the arc of candles in front of which was an arrangement of white mixed flowers and the prayer rail.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Juliet style, empire gown of trim on the front and sleeves. She wore a shoulder length veil.

She carried a Colonial nosegay of Baby Breath and French Carnations with Lily of the Valley, topped with a yellow-throated white orchid, made into a corsage.

The bride's parents hosted a reception in the home following the ceremony. A number of out-of-town guests attended as well as local.

On their return home from a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Montgomery, Alabama.

Elba Team To Play In Football Jamboree

The Pastor's Corner
REV EDWIN R. SELLS

The other day I was on one of those high hills that are to the east of our town and as I looked down upon our city I marveled at the beauty of the church spires and steeples. Have you ever thought of how our community churches are silent sermons?

From the smallest wayside chapel to the loftiest cathedral, they stand as silent witnesses to man's faith in God. They tell of his belief in prayer and his need for fellowship and his need for fellowship with other believers. The tall spire points upward to the One True God. The tower tells of God as our refuge and protection. The bell rings to call us to service and to remind us of God's priority in our lives. The stained glass windows portray great spiritual truths. They cross on the spire, witnessed to the price of man's redemption and his hope of eternal life through his resurrected Lord. Yes, you see, churches are sermons in themselves. They say "with your hearts" and our redemption is, "We lift them up to the Lord." Many things go into the building of a church. We see the beautiful structure of brick, stone, or wood with its windows of beauty and its open doors, but woven into the fabric of the building are many things we cannot see. They are the hopes and dreams and prayers and the sacrificial gifts which have made the building possible.

Every church is an outward expression of something that already exists in human hearts and minds. Churches are dedicated to the glory of God and the service of men. They are for preaching, for worship, for sacraments, and for service. Surely no other building can have so much meaning and significance in one built in such a manner and dedicated to such a sacred purpose.

Don't Just Brush Floss Your Teeth

Brush your teeth after every meal is one of the major rules of good dental hygiene. It's something we have heard every since childhood, but brushing alone is not enough, warns the Alabama Dental Association. Flossing is an equally important tool for keeping teeth clean. And dental floss should be used at least once a day. Few people, however, recognize the true value of flossing their teeth daily. And even fewer know how to go about it. When improperly done, flossing can be damaging. However, this can be prevented with proper instruction from your dentist. Using dental floss not only helps remove food particles which might become lodged between teeth, it helps remove plaque. And plaque is the major cause of tooth decay and gum diseases. While brushing is effective, most people's teeth are wedged so tightly together that toothbrush bristles can't get between them. Plaque can so can dental floss. In addition, dental floss helps polish teeth until they literally become "squeaky clean." If dental floss is used properly you'll hear a loud squeak that tells you to move on to another tooth.

Unwaxed dental floss is best, but often hard to find. If dragged doesn't stick it, ask your dentist for a sample. A number of companies manufacture unwaxed floss. The acceptable way of flossing is to use approximately 18 inches of floss. Wrap one end around the middle finger of the right hand and the other end around the middle finger of the left hand. Move around the loop to the right hand with approximately two to three inches left to work on teeth. Gently but firmly insert floss between two teeth, going all the way to the gum line. Plaque for flossing, try it a couple of times. The Dental Association cautions that the use of dental floss alone is not enough to offset serious gum infections. Regular use of dental floss, however, will remove plaque both below and above the gum line. Then using the index finger for lower teeth and the thumb for upper teeth move the floss back and forth along the side of the tooth.

Senate Told Views Of Alabamians About End Of War And Coming Of Peace

Senator Jim Allen Last week I returned to the United States Senate after spending 17 days visiting 17 nations, impressed with what thousands of Alabamians said about the end of the war in Vietnam and the coming of peace to America that I spoke of this Alabamians are strongly opposed to granting a blanket amnesty or pardon for draft dodgers and deserters from the armed forces.

This is exactly the position that I took more than a year ago, in my February, 1972 Newsletter, when I stated my opposition to granting amnesty. Where would be the justice of giving blanket amnesty to those who took the law into their own hands and refused to serve while millions of others risked their very lives to fulfill their patriotic obligations to their country?

Alabamians are just as strongly opposed to providing funds to help rebuild North Vietnam. I also discussed this in my February, 1972 Newsletter when I expressed my unfavorable opinion to the State Department plan to give $2.5 billion to communist North Vietnam. I said then that this doubtless would just be the start of the spending and that payment of such a bribe would be admitting guilt for the war and the American taxpayer would be paying reparations like a defeated nation.

I hope that we will never again allow ourselves to become involved in a ground war on the Asian Continent where, throughout recorded history, outside forces have been swallowed by the immensity of Asia and its multitude of people. More than that, however, is my fervent hope that should we ever again be forced into another war -- and I pray that we never will -- we will devote all our efforts to the fight, hitting hard and fast and strong to win. No American should ever again be forced to fight without complete victory as the goal.

The too, as our fighting men pledge their lives and health in our wars, let's be sure that this home front gives 100% moral support and dedication to the cause.

Now that we are out of Vietnam, let us make a national resolve that the United States will never again get so involved in the internal affairs of any other nation that we also fight their wars.

Above all else, now as we rejoice with our returned prisoners of war and their families, let us not forget the patriotic service sacrifice of the 50,000 American boys killed, the 300,000 wounded, the 2 1/2 million who saw service in Vietnam. Let us not forget the amputees, the paraplegics, the maimed in body, mind and spirit. Let us draw them and their memories to our hearts. They, too, deserve our undying gratitude.

COMMITTEE

of Alabama are all interested in attending such an event.

This affair would possibly be set for Saturday, March 24th if no local conflicts develop, according to Inman. Also Inman has received inquiries about possibly giving Kingsdorf a new car at this time. He stated that this idea would be given strong consideration by his committee.

TAX LIABILITY CAN BE ASSIGNED TO POLITICAL PARTY

A change in the law now allows taxpayers to designate part of their tax liability to the political party of their choice in the next Presidential election.

The Internal Revenue Service said today.

A tabulation of the first 1972 returns received by IRS shows only a small percentage of the taxpayers are availing themselves of this privilege.

This change is effective for 1972 returns filed now by taxpayers. If a taxpayer chooses, he may designate that one dollar (two dollars on a joint return) to a non-partisan account.

Wise Retires After 33 Years With P. O.

Cecil E. Wise received a Service Award March 5 for 33 years of postal service after his retirement December 31, 1972.

Wise began his postal career in 1941 as a city carrier and worked as such until 1950 when he became a Post Office clerk. He served as a clerk until 1959 and then as a rural carrier on Route 3, Elba, until his retirement.

Brunson Tells Rotary Club About SBA Purpose

Paul R. Brunson, District Director, Small Business Administration, Birmingham, was guest speaker at the March 5th meeting of the Elba Rotary Club.

Brunson stated that in July of this year, SBA will have been in operation for twenty years. SBA's prime concern is to strengthen small business. He stated that when small businesses grow, then the communities grow.

At the end of this school year, Coffee County schools will graduate about 475 boys and girls. The greater portion of these graduates will be added to the labor force and we must look forward now and plan for their employment or they will leave the county.

Brunson said that Alabama is showing a healthy growth in jobs. He said that Alabama last year added 18,000 new jobs. SBA fills a gap that banks cannot fill in furnishing long-term loans at reasonable interest rates to small businesses.

The participation of local banks and bankers with SBA indicates their interest in seeing their local businesses and their communities grow and prosper, and their participation is actively encouraged.

Concluding by financial experts is offered free by SBA and SCORE and ACE representatives. SCORE is the "Service Corps of Retired Executives" and ACE is the "Active Corps of Executives" both groups are composed of dedicated citizens giving freely of their time and experience to counsel small businesses; the small business must pay only their out-of-pocket expenses.

Brunson stated that presently the majority of loans made are under the guaranty plan since funds for direct government loans are severely limited, if available at all. He explained that SBA is not a "give-away" agency and that all applicants must be able to pay.

Ho hum, and the Kentucky Wildcats are once again atop the Southeastern Conference basketball standings. This is nothing unusual to people who follow the sport, for the Wildcats win about as many SEC titles as UCLA does National ones. It is disappointing, however, because fans in this state half-way expected C. M. Newton's Alabama team to challenge seriously for the crown.

Alabama has had a banner year as basketball goes in the state, but one can't help wondering the cause of the Tide's midseason collapse. A closer look at SEC scheduling for 1973 reveals a good case for our disappointment. Alabama started the season with mostly second-division teams, and reeled off a streak of victories. Then Tennessee, perennial challenger of Kentucky, showed up at Tuscaloosa, and Alabama played season to knock off the Vols. This one game did more for the Tide's national reputation than any other.

After the Tennessee game, the Tide had these conference games remaining: Kentucky (twice), Vanderbilt (twice), and Tennessee in Knoxville. Also, of what to expect from the 1973 Tigers, moral-wise and talent-wise.

How about Buddy Allen's victory in the Citrus Open last week in Orlando. The 135-pound string bean from Santa Barbara, California, resembles anything but a decorated Vietnam war veteran. His 23-under par total (second best in the history of the PGA tour) seemed to surprise him as much as anyone else. But most tour veterans agree that Allen at his best is in the Superstar category. Watch out if this guy starts playing to his potential.

Most professional baseball teams have begun full-scale spring training after the annual "disruption" between the Players Association and the owners. Of course, Oakland's Yards Blue will hold out long enough to receive a few newspaper write-ups, and a probable cut in salary.

Until next week...

Miss Kelley, Mr. Barefoot To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Kelley of Samson, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, June, to Ralph Barefoot of Andalusia.

Grandparents of the bride-elect are Mrs. Charlie Kelley and the late Mr. Kelley of Samson, and Mr. W. D. Ross and the late Mrs. Ross of Enterprise.

Miss Kelley, a graduate of Kinston High School, is now a student at the Douglas MacArthur State Technical Institute of Op. Alabama.

Mr. Barefoot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Barefoot of Andalusia. His grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barefoot of the Ino Community.

He is a graduate of Struaha High School and is currently employed in Op. The ceremony will take place on Friday, March 9, at 6:30 in the Fairview Baptist Church.

A reception will follow the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

Formal invitations have been issued. The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Thomas Morrow, cordially invite all friends and relatives to attend.

Speakers, like sunsets, are more brilliant when they get down to earth.

ZCHS Editorial

With the spring holidays coming up, the anticipation of being free for a week is mounting. This is true for both students and teachers. The holidays are for enjoyment thus not to be regretted. Many people will be going on vacations, thus increasing the possibility of accidents. When taking a trip beware of others' carelessness as well as your own.

The beach is a good place to spend your holidays. It offers hope that winter is almost over and that summer is near. It also poses disaster for some. The water is good in that it gives pleasure and bad in that it takes lives. If a person cannot swim, stay close to others who can. Do not wander off by far because some places in the water have drop-offs. Be extremely careful when crossing streets. Traffic is unusually heavy and accidents are likely to occur.

Accidents can also happen to you if you never even leave home. Try to prevent fires by using heaters correctly and remembering to turn them off. Some will be preparing to plant their crops. The tractor is a useful machine for work, but not for play, so respect the use of it for its right jobs. Make sure it is in good shape before using it.

Some people will use their holidays wisely by seeking employment and making some extra money. Remember there will be more holidays in the future to enjoy, so try to see that you're around to enjoy them by being careful this holiday.

Happy Easter!

Student Spotlight

Margaret Pyfrom, 7th grader, wins the honor of being in the student spotlight this week. Margaret's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Pyfrom of Route One, Elba.

Margaret holds the office of 4-H secretary and has won a ribbon for the best record book. She also won a plaque for being the friendliest student in Elba Middle School.

She enjoys sewing, drawing, reading and watching TV. Even though Margaret is a newcomer to Z.C. this year, she has impressed us all already with her quiet friendly manner and her quick and imaginative mind. She makes excellent grades and displays a very cooperative attitude in all her work and relations with students and teachers.

We are proud to salute you in Student Spotlight, Margaret, for you are deserving of the honor.

Horoscope Hints

Pisces — February 20 — March 20

You are a Pisces, this is your time. Pisces are especially attracted to all that is beautiful and harmonious. You are especially sensitive to colors and beauty in all things. So show that pride and keep the school ground and country side clean and beautiful.

Pisces like to be alone. You tend to isolate people and don't like to face the facts of life. So show respect for everyone. As a Piscean, you are apt to be misinterpreted so when doing or saying something, make yourself plain.

You are one of those free from problems. You overlook qualities your loved one does not have.

Pisceans, you represent a lot of good qualities so live up to your expectations. The Pisces symbol is fishes. Your herbstone is aquamarine; flowers: water lily and lotus; perfumes: Magnolia, lilac and lavender.

Some famous Pisces personalities are: Sidney Portier, Lawrence Welk, Elizabeth Taylor. Some famous Z.C. Pisceans are: Mary Pearson, Cathy Moutley, Sheila Miles, Raynell Baggett, Ruth Rushing, Debra Jones, Diane Stephens and Pat Bogar. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fillingim on the birth of an 8 lb. boy named Troy Ashley!

Students Welcome Ben Ringsdorf Home

Ben, the following letters from three of our elementary school students express the sentiments of all of us — teachers and students.

I'm glad you're coming home. I saw you on T.V. And I saw you when Mrs. Wallace gave you your bracelet. I said a prayer for you. My teacher is Mrs. Young. When you come back from the hospital I would like to see you. I am in the 1st grade. My name is Love Teresa.

And I saw you Mommy and Daddy Teresa. I pray for you. Love, Teresa. Dear Ben, I hope you had a good time. We wish you could stay home. We miss you. I've missed you, everybody did. I am in the 1st grade. My name is Love Teresa.

EHS REPORT

ROTC Cadets Tour Ft. Benning

At 5:45 a.m. on Monday, February 26, 1973, the cadets and sponsors of the Elba JROTC unit left Elba en route to Ft. Benning, Ga. Traveling in two chartered Continental Trailway buses, the cadets arrived at Ft. Benning at approximately 9:25 a.m.

At the gate we picked up our escort and began our tour. Our first stop was at the Army Museum. For about 30 minutes, the cadets reviewed many war relics and other pieces of heavy equipment used by the U. S. Army and other fighting groups in the past and present.

Then we took a brief ride over the base and stopped at the Officers' Field Ration Mess.

After having eaten, we went to see an airborne demonstration. The cadets saw how the paratroopers are trained and some of the methods and equipment with which they are trained.

The demonstration was performed by instructors of the Airborne unit. After seeing the demonstration, we went to see the Leaders' Reaction course. This being a new experience to nearly every one we enjoyed watching the activities conducted there.

After having seen the reaction course, we departed about 3:20 P.M. After traveling some two hours, we arrived in Elba at 5:20 P.M. Although having enjoyed the trip and gained some knowledge of the Airborne division of the U. S. Army.

know your Carpeting

STOCK DYED? SPACE DYED? Obtainment a carpet salesman will tell you that this is a "space-dyed" carpet, or that the fibers in the carpet are "stock-dyed". Just what does he mean? He is simply referring to the method of dyeing the fibers in the carpet.

Stock dyed carpet fibers are those which are dyed before the yarn is spun. On the other hand, space-dyeing is a process whereby different colors are printed along the length of the yarn before it is tufted into the carpet. Space-dyed carpets are usually three-colored, and quite beautiful.

See us when you want lovely carpet. Look over our wide selection. Not only do we have space-dyed and stock-dyed carpets, but many other carpets featuring individual dyeing methods.

Ringsdorf Welcomed By Thousands Last Friday

The BEN RINGSDORF DAY Committee, headed by Mayor Jack Brunson, is formalizing plans for a special reception in honor of Ben's returning POW. The event is scheduled for Saturday, March 24th from 5 until 7 p.m. It will be held in the Elba Elementary School cafeteria.

Mrs. Sam Sawyer, responsible for setting up the receiving line, has announced that Mrs. George C. Wallace (Cornelia to Ben's folks) will be on hand. Also she has issued invitations to Mayor Jack Brunson, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Ringsdorf and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ringsdorf to join the official greeters also.

Lamar Rainer Jr. is arranging for the decorations in his usual efficient manner and Mrs. Robert Cannon promises some tasty refreshments from her refreshment committee.

Jimmy Wise is chairman of the committee collecting the donations for a gift of appreciation to be given to Captain Ringsdorf just prior to the beginning of the reception. Current plans indicate a new automobile will be presented to him at this time.

Wise was strong in his statement that contributions are not being solicited but are simply being accepted from these citizens in the Wiregrass who wish to have a part in the gift. He gave as an example of this desire various gifts in Enterprise Monday afternoon totaling over $250 from people who called and said "I want to be a part also."

Wise also explained that "we will present Ben with a list of all who contributed but we won't mention the sum of the contributions because we want the school student giving a dime to feel as much a part of the gift as the businessman who might give $100."

Contributions may be sent to Ben Ringsdorf Fund, c/o Jimmy Wise, P.O. Box 469 or deposited either Elba bank to the account set up for that purpose.

ALL MUST PAY

Mayor Explains Garbage Fee

Elba's new garbage ordinance according to Mayor Jack Brunson, is designed so that every household and place of business will "carry their fair share of the load" in helping to pay for the garbage and trash services provided by the City. Brunson stated the old garbage and trash fee charged in the past was inequitable when you consider it cost $20-$25 per year to provide service for some residences and $100-$150 per year for other residences. Mayor Brunson also released the following statement on the new garbage ordinance.

1. Every household and place of business will be charged a garbage fee. (Due to the required closing of the local garbage dump, residents have no place to dispose of their garbage. To prevent health hazard there was no alternative other than making the service compulsory. In addition, it's impossible to determine whether garbage and trash belongs to a paying customer or a neighbor.

2. An extra charge for labor and equipment will be made for amounts of garbage or trash in excess of 2 cubic feet per routine pickup. (The actual cost of pick up garbage and/or trash from some places is in excess of $100 per month. To remove limbs from a residence will sometimes cost $50 to $75.)

3. The new basic garbage and trash fee is $2.00 per month for households and $5.00 for places of business. (Last year the garbage fee collected amounted to $27,000 while expenses were $42,000 which does not include the purchase of new equipment such as the new hauler of garbage to New Brockton means additional expenses and more time.)

4. Garbage and trash must be placed within 20 feet of the street right of way in an accessible location. (Some garbage cans are 300 - 400 feet from the street, in fences with doors, contain 75 - 100 pounds of garbage etc. This is rough on the men and causes labor turn over and takes an excessive amount of time.)

5. Garbage containers, except commercial containers, used for mechanical dumping are not to be larger than 30 gallon capacity, with lids and must be water tight, including a sound bottom.

The new garbage fees will be charged on utility bills due April 1, 1973. Every household and place of business will be charged this fee.

Although the ordinance was effective March 1, 1973, strict enforcement will not begin until April. Garbage cans which are not properly located, after April 1, will not be emptied. (Containers do not have to be kept near the right of way all the time but must be in the proper location when the garbage pickup is made.) Containers which do not meet the requirements of the ordinance will be tagged and will not be emptied unless replaced.

Due to anti-pollution laws no garbage is allowed at the local dump. Trash, limbs, etc. will still be accepted, however, the contents of each vehicle must be checked by the custodian. Violators are subject to be fined. The dump will be open for controlled dumping of trash until 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday (except from 11:30 to 12:30) except on City holidays.

Although this new ordinance will inconvenience some people, it is the belief of the Mayor and Council that these changes were necessary and will be beneficial to the community and its citizens. For this reason, the Mayor and Council request the cooperation of all citizens in complying with the new garbage ordinance.
